1. Production of graduates and development of student potential

(1) According to the guidelines set for higher education institutions to carry out teaching and learning arrangements as specified by the Ministerial Regulations on Higher Education Management Standards.

a) Education System: The curriculum is well-designed and systematically structured based on the stakeholder needs, emerging trends, the university’s vision and mission, and the Ministry’s regulations. Experts and government officers are invited as guest lecturers to share knowledge and experiences with lecturers and students to ensure students can successfully learn and apply knowledge and skills for their career advancement or pursue their higher education.

b) Education Management System: Both curricula taught under the 4 Faculties were approved by the Office of the Higher Education Commission and updated every 5 years. Currently, most programs will be revised in 2025.

The number of credits for a bachelor's degree is 160 and for a master's degree is 48 in the trimester system. The Faculty of Public Administration and Social Studies offers three terms of study per year that students can apply to study at any term.

c) Student Admission System: The Faculty works closely with the Admission Office to set up admission targets, qualifications, criteria, and recruiting strategies. The admission staff reviews and pre-screens new intakes' qualifications before contacting program heads to interview and discuss with each candidate. The successful candidate will be contacted by the admission office regarding seat confirmation and registration. Each term, a new student orientation is organized for students to meet with their academic advisor to plan their studies and to get to know the faculty and the university.
